Processing of Applications for Certification Renewal

Overview:
The United States Board of Examiners for Clinical Engineering Certification (Board) will review continuing practice applications to verify that those certified in clinical engineering are eligible for certification renewal. Individuals wishing to maintain certification and continue to be listed as certified in clinical engineering must submit a renewal application every three years for evaluation against the eligibility criteria. Credit for various activities are awarded in four categories, specifically:

- Employment (15 points maximum)
- Continuing education (10 points maximum),
- Professional activities (10 points maximum), and
- Miscellaneous activities related to clinical engineering professional career enhancement (10 points maximum).

The applicant must achieve a minimum of fifteen (15) points over a period of three (3) years with at least two (2) points in three of the above four categories in order to maintain certification and apply for renewal. This document describes the procedure for processing renewal applications.

The applicant must document continuing practice activities, must submit a fee of $125 and their application will be reviewed and approved by the Board of Examiners in order to maintain certification. Following this review, the applicant will be notified of the results.

Application Process:
1) The certification renewal applicant must complete the CCE Renewal Application form and submit it to the Healthcare Technology Certification Commission (HTCC). An application must be submitted 8 weeks prior to the end of the current certification expiration date. The application may be obtained through the ACCE web site or by contacting the HTCC directly. The applicant must:
   - Record professional activities on the form,
   - Allocate points based on allowances indicated on the form,
   - Print the form, and
   - Submit the paper copy along with the renewal application fee to the Secretariat.

2) The Secretariat will evaluate the application for completeness including attached documentation (if submitted). If there are any incomplete application parts, the Secretariat will request that the applicant submit additional information.
3) The Secretariat will log the applicant and verify that the allocation of points reflects the Certification Renewal Criteria outlined below.

4) The Board of Examiners will review the application and request additional information from the candidate if necessary. Following approval by the Board of Examiners the applicant will be notified of the results. The candidate will be informed of the results of the review within two months of the application.

CCE Certification Renewal Criteria:
Certification renewal requires a currently certified individual to meet the following criteria in order to be eligible apply for renewal. The Board shall process the application and recommend to the Commission whether or not the application meets the criteria following the previously detailed procedure above.

There are four categories within which continuing practice are demonstrated. Points are allowed for activities in each of these categories as follows, specifically:

Employment
- Full time (typically 2,080 hours per year) hospital or non-hospital based clinical engineer – maximum allowable credit 5 points per year.
- Part time clinical engineer employment – prorated based on 2,080 hours per year, i.e., number of hours divided by 2,080 multiplied by 5 points.
- Clinical engineering professor or teacher where full time equals 12 credits of teaching per semester – maximum allowable credit 2 points per year.
- Full time manager position related to clinical engineering – maximum allowable credit 5 points per year.
- Clinical engineering consultant – prorated based on 2,080 hours per year, i.e., number of hours divided by 2,080 multiplied by 4 points.

Continuing Education
- Academic courses including college / university, company courses, short courses and workshops – 1 point per 8 contact hours.
- Self study including relevant reading, e.g., books, journals, magazines, audio/visual courses, internet courses, teleconference, webinars, or other relevant self-learning activities – 1 point per 16 hours.
